Cross Very Low.

Physicians have forbidden visitors to the bedside of Secretary of State Cross and the condition of the veteran statesman grows no more hopeful.

More Fish Poisoning.

Six Snake Indians are in jail at Muskogee for poisoning fish. Several white men implicated in the poisoning escaped.

The officers declare that an immense quantity of fish were killed and taken for eating by these men. They used the jellies which are known to Indians to be the proper dope for fish killings.

In this part of the country the fish killers use walnut juice.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 18.—Sixteen governors have accepted invitations to join the party of President Taft in his trip down the Mississippi river next October. The members of the presidential party who will go to New Orleans for the annual convention will include several cabinet members, about forty congressmen and delegates from river towns. Governor Haskell of Oklahoma will be a member of the party.

TERRIFIC HEAT WAVE SWEEPS OVER AMERICA

THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY RECORDS FOR HIGH TEMPERATURE ARE BROKEN AND CROPS SERIOUSLY DAMAGED.

Epidemics of Crime and Insanity Reported from Some of the Larger Cities, Attributed to Heat.

One of the most terrific heat waves ever recorded in America swept the country Monday and Tuesday. Weather records were made in all sections of the country, east, west, north and south. The weather man seemed to play no favorites.

Deaths from heat are reported from all over the country, especially from the large cities. In some cities, particularly St. Louis, the death rate was appalling. In Chicago an epidemic of insanity and crime is reported.

Crops throughout the whole country were injured and in some places nearly ruined. Oklahoma escaped any very serious calamity but suffered with the others in the general torridity.

McAlester carries the plan with a temperature of 113, but she has a host of close seconds, for the distinction. Muskogee reported 112, Vinita 110, Ardmore 111, Oklahoma City 106, Tulsa 106.

Ada was only a fair average with 109.

Throughout Missouri and contiguous territory the temperature ranged around the 100 mark. Throughout the central and eastern portions of the country, as well as throughout the south heat records were broken very generally.

The government weather bureau generally predicts relief within twenty-four hours.

The Pan Handle of Texas, New Mexico and Western Oklahoma were relieved by rains Monday.

COMMISSIONERS PROPOSE A $19,000 BOND ISSUE

To Take Up Floating Indebtedness and Put Business of County on Cash Basis, Reducing Expenses.

The county commissioners were in session yesterday and this morning. The time was taken up mostly with routine business that is of no special public interest.

One action, however, was taken that is of particular interest and that will doubtless meet the approval of the people. A resolution was passed calling for a bond issue of $19,000 to cover the present floating indebtedness of the county. If this issue is made all warrants now outstanding can be taken up and paid and the business of the county placed on a cash basis. This will, in the end, be cheaper for the county and much more satisfactory to everybody having to do business with the county.

A vote of the people is not necessary in order to make such an issue of bonds but the approval of the district court is necessary. This resolution of the county commissioners will be presented to the court at the next session on September 28. There seems to be little doubt that the resolution will be approved and the issue ordered.

The petition at the outset declares that five of the jurors had vehemently expressed opinions as to Haskell's guilt. J. H. Dixon, of Big Cabin, had declared the petition sets forth, that Haskell would be indicted before they "got through with him," and that he "ought to be in the penitentiary."

The petition, in fact, makes out a clear case of "persecution" instead of "prosecution" and shows that the animus of the whole matter is political in the main object of the suits being to discredit Governor Haskell.

Government Won't Quit.
Washington, Aug. 18.—It was said at the department of justice yesterday that should the motion at Muskogee yesterday by Gov. Haskell's attorneys to quash the indictments in the town lot cases be sustained, the department would probably order another Grand Jury investigation.

Ozage county voters turned down a proposition to issue $325,000 bonds for building county buildings, roads and bridges.

STATE ENFORCEMENT ATTY. DISAGREES WITH GOVERNOR

Makes Good Use of the Federal Licenses Granted to Jointists—Such License Prima Facie Evidence.

State Enforcement Attorney Caldwell has made public a letter which he addressed to all county attorneys of Oklahoma. In the letter he outlined his plan for the enforcement of the prohibition laws in Oklahoma and from the general trend of his letter it is evident that he contends the fact that the government does issue liquor permits is one of the greatest aid to the enforcement officers.

He recited how, because of the government permits, he had been able to secure over a hundred indictments in one county.

According to his plan he first secures from the government a list of those who have been granted government permits, then he causes to be subpoenaed the railroad and express agents who are then called upon to produce their freight receipt records. This shows, for instance, that John Doe, who had taken out a government permit, had been receiving large quantities of liquors; coupling this fact with the fact that he had paid the government for a permit to sell has been and is being taken as direct evidence that John Doe received liquors for sale in violation of the state law.

Mr. Caldwell states that the fact that at this time packages of liquors do not of necessity have to be branded showing just what is in the package shipped, works against the officers, but he states that by a recent act of congress, which provides that all shipments of liquors must be marked showing just what is shipped and the amount or quantity, and which law goes into effect next year, there will not be the slightest difficulty in enforcing the prohibition law in Oklahoma.

In order to make a case against one charged with any violations of the prohibitory law, Mr. Caldwell states that it is only necessary to prove two things, possession of liquors and an intention of violating any provision of the statute.

Haskell States His Position.

I have not asked the federal government to enforce the prohibitory law. I have simply asked the federal government to quit helping Mr. Ames' clients to violate the law.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 18.—The above is the keynote expression in a reply given out by Governor Haskell to an interview with C. B. Ames, an Oklahoma City lawyer, recently published in which the governor's appeal to President Taft to stop the issuance of internal revenue licenses in Oklahoma is attacked by Ames and the act charged with being "another of Haskell's political tricks, a play to the gallery."

Governor Haskell makes a thorough analysis of the Ames interview and then proceeds, step by step, to reply to each point. "The air of discourtesy and insolence evinced by the tone of Mr. Ames' interview will suggest that he was anxious to criticize me," says the governor.

DARING BANK ROBBERY PERPETRATED AT KIEFER

Marshal and Cashier of Bank Are Killed and Robbers Escape Without Loot—Not Yet Found.

Kiefer, Okla., Aug. 18.—Great excitement prevails throughout this section on account of the attempted robbery of the Kiefer State bank by yeggmen, the murder of Marshal Inford and the fatal wounding of Cashier Calmer Webbing.

Two masked men attempted to loot the bank, one of them remaining on the outside while the other dashed in, shot the cashier and began his search for money.

The report of the gun fired by the robber inside the bank attracted the marshal and as he appeared at the bank door he was shot down by the robber who was watching on the outside.

The combination on the vault had been turned off and no money was secured.

The shooting brought to the bank scores of citizens of the town, but the robbers made their escape before the crowd realized what had been done.

Marshal Inford died within a few minutes after he was shot, and Cashier Webbing, desperately wounded, died soon after. Webbing's home was in Whiteville, Ky., and he had been in Oklahoma but a short time. He was 25 years of age.

The robbers escaped and all trace of them seems to be lost.

Robert Blank's Party.

The pretty home of R. E. Blanks on Capitol Hill was the scene of much merriment Tuesday afternoon, when about 40 little boys and girls gathered to celebrate the 10th birthday of Robert Blanks, Jr.

The pretty lawn afforded ample room for the many games enjoyed by the young folks. Delicious cream and cake added pleasure to the occasion. Besides his numerous Ada friends, Robert had as guests four little cousins from Hubbard City, Texas.

Services at Christian Church Sunday.

The News is in receipt of a letter from Rev. C. E. Smoot, pastor of the Christian church, in which he requests that we announce that there will be services at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Smoot states that he has just closed a splendid meeting at Rush Springs, with twenty additions.

Killed at Church.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 18.—In a hand to hand fight at a church six miles south of Henryetta last night Constable Jesse Merrill shot and instantly killed Steve Clancey.

Clancey is alleged to have been disturbing religious worship when Merrill was summoned.

The constable undertook to arrest the disturber and a desperate fight followed in which Clancey choked the officer nearly to death. The officer managed to draw his gun and fired, instantly killing his antagonist.

Public sympathy is with the officer in the discharge of duty.

Yokum Favors Repeal.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 18.—B. F. Yokum, president of the Frisco railway, was in Oklahoma City today, coming from Shawnee where he addressed the farmers' state convention. Mr. Yokum is preparing to line up interest here for a fight for referendum from the state legislature during the coming session. A strong effort will be made for the repeal of Sec. 9 of Art. 9 of the constitution relating to the construction, sale and operation of railroads in this state. He promises that his company will build more lines in Oklahoma if the objectionable clause is removed.

Hot weather kills no weeds. There-

The murder of the most beautiful Chinese woman in New York China town has set the metropolis all agog again and increased the demand for a general cleaning out of that den of iniquity.

The way of redemption lies along the line of squarely and unflinchingly meeting the issue whatever it may be and whenever and wherever duty plainly calls.

If you want to plant a boost for Ada and Pontotoc county where it will do the most good just talk to people about the many new enterprises now under way in this vicinity. It will bear good fruit.

The building of the Ada terminal means that within the next sixty days from the Oklahoma Central main line about twenty thousand dollars will be paid out for labor in Ada. This is merely the first of the good results of this bit of road.

Acting Secretary of State Leo Meyer is not an admirer of the Guthrie State Capital. In a published statement he says: "Guthrie is a good town and has a multitude of good people in it. The greatest misfortune that that city is suffering today is that the State Capital still is domiciled in its midst."

It is announced from Washington that President Taft will appoint a "board of jimmies" to pry open the tariff secrets of the world. Would it not be better to put some of these "jimmies" at work to pry Aldrich and Cannon loose from congress? Nothing short of a "jimmie" calamity or sudden death will do it.

The unofficial returns of the elections held in the twenty-one counties of South Carolina Tuesday, held to choose between prohibition and the county dispensary system, indicates that the prohibitionists have won victories in fifteen of these counties.
Which goes to prove that the South has not lost its prohibition idea and is still going dry.

President Yoakum of the Frisco is preaching the doctrine of good roads in Oklahoma. He realizes that without good roads the progress and development of the state will be immeasurably retarded, that the farmers will find it difficult to make any profit from their crops and as a result the whole state will suffer. Good roads are the foundation of prosperity.

The Evening News deeply appreciates the many expressions of approval for the edition of yesterday.
Of course, it is not every day that offers so much good material for the local paper, but The News will endeavor from day to day to give the people all the news and fairly present matters of local importance as they really are and not as some people might want them to be.

RETIRE THE REPRESENTATIVES.

The Tulsa World, a republican paper, publishes the following:

"If the republicans are to triumph in Oklahoma; if they are to hold even that which they now possess, then the policies and the leadership of the progressive element of the party must be accepted. This proposition is not debatable. Oklahoma republicans must stand with the western senators; they dare not accept the leadership or endorse the record of Aldrich and Cannon. They must write into their platform an unequivocal pronouncement on this point. And they must man that platform, both in congressional districts and the state at large, with candidates who not only accept the platform pronouncements, but also give evidence by their record and their speech of a genuine sincerity."

The Daily Oklahoman comments on this utterance and says:

"That's good doctrine, and it evidences a very exact knowledge of the status of the popular pulse in Oklahoma. The carrying out of that program would defeat the renomination of McGuire, Creager and Morgan, the three republican congressmen from Oklahoma, who servilely know-towed to Speaker Cannon upon every occasion. These men should be retired and if the republicans do not do the work in the primaries, the people will do the good work at the election."

OKLAHOMA SIFTINGS.

End still; wants a packing plant and won't be happy till she gets it.

Ed Butler has been appointed postmaster at Durant. Thank the Lord, that is settled at last.

The State Board of Public Affairs has taken a look-in at the new pen at McAlester and reports the aforesaid hostile O. K.

The Guthrie National Bank was put to the trouble of cracking its own safe because the combination became disarranged.

Johnson county voted road and bridge bonds Monday by a big majority. At least this good thing comes from our near neighbor.

The Muskogee Phoenix, owned by Tams Bixby and others and heretofore republican in politics, is to be changed to an independt paper.

Certain sections of Oklahoma have been visited lately by swarms of grasshoppers, the same living things up some but not doing much damage.

The contract has been let for a twelve story building on the corner of Robinson and Grand in Oklahoma City to cost about half a million dollars.

Major H. D. McKnight, register of the Lawton Land office, and with probably one exception the oldest in the service of the Oklahoma Land office, died at his home in Lawton Monday.

According to the report of Adjutant General Frank Canton just rendered, the Snake "rebellion" cost Oklahoma about seven thousand dollars, which is a fairly reasonable price for luxuries in that class.

A bold, bad burglar at Guthrie reached through the railing of the cashiers desk at the Oklahoma State Bank and took a package of bills that netted him $500 for the effort.
Who the aforesaid bold and bad one is cannot be ascertained.

The semi-annual report of the office of Secretary of State shows the income of that office for the first six months of the year to be $46,448.95, an increase of sixty-five per cent over the last half of 1908. Over $43,000 was received as fees for charters.

A dispatch from Guymon says that Oklahomans are learning to play the game of "monk," the same being the national game of Norway. It may be "monk" in Norway all right but here in Oklahoma there are a lot of fellows who are expert on the game of "monkey."

At Minco, E. A. Brown, a merchant of the town, took a drink of whiskey from the bottle of a friend, Elmer Oakes, and died soon after. In a dying statement Brown declared that Oakes had murdered him. The incident is thought to be the outgrowth of a murder case that was tried there recently.

The Oklahoma City baseball team now stands second in the Texas league and only three points behind Houston, the leader for the pennant.
Oklahoma City declares she is fighting the whole state of Texas for the pennant, and alleges all sorts of rotten umpiring by the Texas ampires to keep her from winning.

While the marshal of Holdenville was sitting quietly in a chair on the sidewalk a man from the other side of the street took five shots at him but failed to score. There was a quarrel of long standing between the marshal, W. Gillard, and his assailant, Mat Crowell. Holdenville will soon be eligible to join the class.

At Bartlesville two men quarreled over a "woman" and agreed to fight it out with knives. While a crowd of people of the "underworld" of the town looked on the two men carved each other until one was about ready for the undertaker. The other escaped. Bartlesville must be about ready to enter the class with some of the rest of us.

A Shawnee dispatch says that if Governor Haskell will honor the requisition of Governor Campbell of Texas for Secretary Chapman of the Oklahoma corporation commission, the government has plenty of money appropriated with which to prosecute the cases wherein Chapman and other Oklahomans are charged with defrauding Kickapoo Indians.

Samuel Sevier of Guymon is said to be one of eight heirs to the estate of General John Sevier, a hero of the Revolutionary war. For services rendered and money advanced the congress gave the general a grant of land in Ohio and the present litigation grows out of that fact. The heirs now claim three hundred million dollars from the government.

The grand lodges of the Oklahoma and Indian Territory jurisdiction of the I. O. O. F. will meet in Shawnee October 20, and will constitute probably the greatest gathering of Odd Fellows ever held in the southwest. The session will last for four days, and it is probable that the two grand lodges will be merged into one state lodge at this time.

Visit the Charltons.

Mr. J. E. Charlton returned from Holdenville this morning, where he went to meet his sister, Mrs. Lucie Hill and little niece, Minnie Lou, who were coming to see him. These relatives reside in Jackson, Tenn. They came in this morning on the south bound Frisco.

Rinards III.

Mrs. John Rinard and little daughter, Edith, are both ill at their home on South Rennie avenue. It has only been a few days since the head of the house, Mr. John Rinard, recovered from a rather serious attack of illness.

Negro, Watermelon, Shot Gun.

This morning as T. E. Cullins, father of T. O. Cullins of the postoffice store, got up from breakfast, about 6 o'clock, he saw two negroes in his watermelon patch. He took a shot gun ready loaded with fine bird shot and sallied forth to conquest. The thieves separated and ran in opposite directions. He fired a shot at each and as his aim seemed to be fairly good he thinks he planted a few beans where they will do a lot of good.

"Very Rotten Rot."

In the matter of the legal controversy anent the proposed capital removal petition the Guthrie State Capital has had some very mean things to say—as usual—about some good people, including officials. Certain allegations were made by that paper reflecting upon Acting Secretary of State Leo Meyer. Mr. Meyer issued a statement of which the following is the principal part:

"Whether the location of our capital city is to be fixed this year or at some later date, it is a question for the people of the state to decide by their own votes, and all the ranting and falsifying of the Santa Fe magazine, sometimes called the Guthrie State Capital, about the dishonesty of overthrowing the sacred provisions of the statehood bill inserted to tie the hands of the people of a sovereign state until the year 1913 is rot of the rottenest character.

"Let the Santa Fe magazine stand up and look the honest voters of Oklahoma in the face and tell them what right the territorial ring had to tie the hands of the people of this state and compel them to defer locating their own seat of state government for a term of seven years or for any other period of time. If the people of Oklahoma want the capital at Guthrie, they, and they alone, have the right to say so. If they want it at any other town, or if they want to build a new town, the people will decide the question by a majority vote.

"It savors greatly of a defendant in a larceny case complaining that the owner has reclaimed his stolen property to hear that gang talk about sacred rights of him who has grabbed something that belongs to the people and weeps because he can't retain it."

The First "Governor."

Perry, Okla., Aug. 18.—District Judge William M. Bowles of Perry has been officially nominated as a candidate for governor by the Noble county democratic central committee which yesterday held a meeting here to discuss plans for the coming campaign. This is the first official act of a political organization in Oklahoma this year looking to the approaching campaign of 1910.

THREE GREAT CHEERS FOR MAIN STREET

THE CENTER OF BUSINESS WILL PAVE FROM RAILROAD TO RAILROAD—BROADWAY AND TOWNSEND ALSO TAKE ON SPIRIT OF PROGRESS.

Mr. A. K. Thornton Out With Petition. Practically All Signing Up.

Main street will pave from the west end side of the right of way of the Frisco railway to the east side of the right of way of the M. & T., and it is practically as certain that Broadway and Townsend will be paved from 12th street to the Frisco crossings.

It is expected that this paving will be an accomplished fact before freezing weather.

The reason of the confidence that these streets will be paved without delay is founded on the knowledge that already 96 per cent of the 40 per cent of the Main street property owners approached have signed the paving petition in the hands of A. K. (Ward McAllester) Thornton.

Mr. Thornton states that only 4 per cent of the Main street property owners approached have refused to "sign up."

Ada asphaltum will undoubtedly be the product with which the balance of the streets of the city will be paved. If so, Main street will not only have a superior pavement over any other

Take Oath to Kill.

Sapulpa, Okla., Aug. 18.—Local officers declare that the bootleggers of Creek county have taken an iron clad oath to kill the first of their number who "peached." The oath was taken during the disclosure of the Pottawatomie county graft investigation. It was also stated that four members of the special grand jury, which has just adjourned, were approached with offers of bribes. A further probe is expected.

The special investigation was conducted by State Enforcement Attorney Caldwell. The most astonishing feature of the investigation is the apparently well-founded report that the indicted men include leading members of the commercial club. In all, 192 indictments were returned.

Another Railroad Proposed.

The Altus, Roswell & El Paso railway company Tuesday submitted a proposition in writing to the chamber of commerce, wherein the company agrees to construct a railroad from Altus to Oklahoma City within 24 months from date of signing contract, in consideration of which the chamber of commerce must give to the railroad company a 25-acre tract for location of shops and yards, a section right of way, and a $100,000 cash bonus.
The proposed road is 120 miles long and will connect with the line under construction from Altus to Roswell, New Mexico, a distance of 578 miles. The promoters declare that the new line will be 300 miles shorter than any existing line between Oklahoma City and the Pacific coast.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR BRINGS GODD ENDORSEMENTS

Officers and Members of His Former Church at Hebron, Kentucky, Recommend Rev. Needham to Ada Church.

(Official proceedings of Hebron, Ky., Presbyterian Church.)

The officers and people of Hebron church being called by Louisville Presbytery to answer in the matter of the dissolution of the pastoral relation of Rev. J. O. Needham with this church would respectfully make answer. The long continued christian and fraternal relations between said pastor, Rev. J. O. Needham, and us, his people, make it very sad for us to contemplate a severance of these tender relations.

Having assured the Presbytery of our universal attachment to him, as our christian friend and pastor, it will allow us to say:

1st. Our consent to the dissolution is prompted by a desire to comply with the pastor's wishes in carrying out what he thinks to be a conscientious christian duty. Sad as it is to us, we would bid him God speed in responding to what he considers a providential call. We would have Presbytery to know that this assent does not found in any lack of appreciation of our pastor's ability or faithfulness in the performance of his duties to us. Indeed, we ask to be permitted to express our highest esteem for him, as a most exemplary christian man, as a growing scholar, as a faithful teacher and expounder of God's word.

2nd. We give our assent to this dissolution in the full hope, our pastor may find a broader field for the exercise of his gifts for the good of souls and the glory of the Great Head of the church. We would not be selfish enough to wish the Presbytery to assist us in holding him down to a narrow field, meager pay and inadequate encouragement when broader and more fruitful fields are opening before him.

We beg to assure Presbytery that our poor, but earnest prayers shall follow him and his wherever God in his kind providence may lead him.

We beg to assure Presbytery that there are no disaffections in the congregation toward the pastor and no divisive dissensions amongst ourselves.

We would allow our pastor to interpret for himself providential indications as to his field of labor.

We would assure our pastor that his walk and work among us have been such that he has continually grown in our affection and esteem and that a dissolution of his pastoral relation fills us with a deep sense of sorrow and spiritual loss.

May Appeal Land Cases.

Washington, Aug. 18.—As to the matter of appealing from the decision of Judge Campbell in the 30,000 land suits brought by the government in Oklahoma, no definite information is obtainable. Judge Russell of the Attorney General's office, is still out of the city.

Acting secretary of the interior Franklin Pierce, who returned today from his vacation, said that Judge Campbell's decision in the main appeared to him to be sound, but he gave as his impression that the department of Justice would appeal from it in a number of cases.

Model Corporation System.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 18.—John S. Dawson, attorney for the Kansas board of railroad commissioners, thinks that Oklahoma has the model system for handling the corporation business.

He has just returned from a conference with the corporation commission of the new state regarding the proposed suits for readjustment of rates to Kansas and Oklahoma from the east. The Oklahoma commission has $30,000 a year to spend and it has big offices, a fine corps of experts and office clerks and an excellent record system. It is said that Oklahoma has the best record system in the country.

The corporation commission not only handles the railroad business but does the work of the utilities commissions of New York and Wisconsin.

NEW PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER.

Rev. Needham from Kentucky Accepts Call of the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. O. Needham from Kentucky, has accepted the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of this city. At present this minister and family are at home at the residence of Mr. L. T. Walters.

When there has been made some improvements at the church manse on South Rennie avenue, Brother Needham will remove to such home.

This new preacher is being introduced to each of those composing the church membership in particular and the citizens generally this week by Mr. J. T. Higgins, one of his church elders, and it is his desire to meet a good congregation at the church Sunday when he will preach.

There will be regular services hereafter each Sunday at the First Presbyterian church.

Ada's Klondike.

Look out for the Ada asphalt and paving company organization with a paid up capital stock and pay roll greater than local cement mills. Experts declare that the Ada district has enough cement to pave the state, and that it is the finest on earth for street paving.

A Watermelon Scrap.

Sam Murphy, a watermelon vender, and Jack Carter had a misunderstanding over the sale of a melon this afternoon. The misunderstanding lasted about thirty seconds and produced a back eye or two before the police found it out. ## TEN DAYS OF WOE

THAT AWFUL PERIOD WHEN BABY MUST BE NAMED.

Writer Pleads That at Least a Year Be Allowed Parents for That Important Proceeding—Relatives' Unkindness.

The Medes and Persians were an unyielding and an arbitrary people, but it is not recorded that they had such an inhuman law as this, a regulation requiring that the baby must be named within ten days. The name must be filed with the board of health within that period. It cannot be changed without proceedings so difficult and vexatious that most people will prefer to leave the name as it stands or will change it without legal sanction.

Surely no one should be obliged to name his baby in less than a year. Not only the board of health, but doctors, nurses, friends and relatives—especially relatives—should be forbidden under pain of temporary ostracism from asking that embarrassing question: "Well, what are you going to name the baby?" If you don't name him or her as soon as it is born they are scarcely able to disguise their pity for you. The doctor, perhaps, is not to be blamed as much as the others.

The law prods him on. He has got to get it on the books within ten days. If he doesn't he will not be thought a punctilious inquisitor. The board of health will have its eye on him. But for the others, there is no such excuse. Their action is contra bonos mores, and quite unpardonable. Their inquiries are oppressive and unjust. They know not charity nor the rudiments thereof. They do not have the first conception of the torture which the haggard parent has endured.

First of all, there's the dictionary. It's long enough—the lord knows. But no one realizes how few good names it contains until he has attempted to get one out of it. He thumbs it for weeks or months together. Always with the same result! He files to the family genealogy and the genealogies of all the collateral branches. Result no better! He calls in his friends, even his enemies. But they cannot help him. He becomes a subject of melancholy and a hopeless pessimist. But this is not all. Possibly a boy is expected—and after great tribulation a boy's name is selected—but the baby turns out a girl. Or vice versa.

The process must begin all over again, with the knowledge of what was accomplished in months must now be done in days—in ten days! The parent may escape nervous prostration, but who will doubt that his vital forces have been impaired? And who should be surprised that names selected under such duress and intimidation don't always stand? Yet folks are surprised when a change is made. Clearly the law is villainous, and the manners of our friends and relatives are beyond description.—New York Globe.

The Spiritual Line.

A good story is told of a very sedate doctor of divinity. When returning by train from a church congress, a fellow passenger undertook to draw him into conversation, and so far succeeded that the reverend gentleman asked him to what profession he happened to belong.

"Oh," said the layman, cheerfully, "I'm in the cotton line."

"Oh, indeed!" replied the clergyman, urbanely; "there is a good deal of business going on in that branch just now, I understand."

"First class," said the layman, with a cunning smile. "And may I ask what is your line?"

"I," said the clergyman, patronizingly, with the nearest approach to a joke he was ever known to perpetrate, "I'm in the spiritual line."

"Blest if I didn't think so," exclaimed his companion, knowingly; and putting one hand on the doctor's knee, he leaned forward eagerly and added, with an indescribable wink, "but I say, what a price you have got gin up to?"—Lindon Tit-Bits.

A Sign of the Times.

When Judge W. L. Walls of Wyoming was younger—and not so wise—he wrote a poem. It was a humorous poem touching upon political conditions in the city hall at Buffalo, N. Y., where he then lived.

With his back against the locked door, he read the poem to a coterie of friends. They all laughed heartily, but none so heartily as the author himself.

Encouraged by their apparent appreciation of his wit, he took the poem to the city editor of a local paper. The editor also laughed with a heartiness which was flattering, but he handed the manuscript back.

"Why— isn't it good?" demanded the poet in surprise.

"Fine!"

"Are you going to print it?"

"I'd like to," said the editor, lowering his voice to a whisper, "but, you see, Walls, I've got a wife and children."—Lippincott's.

He Knew the Classification.

The vigilant custom house officer was right on his job.

"Who is in your party?" he demanded of the fur-collared theatrical manager.

"The English pony ballet that I am bringing to New York," the manager responded.

"Admitted free as antiques," said the inspector, briskly, as he turned to the next arrival.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
